DONATIONS TO THE MUSEUM THIS YEAR:

Lloyd W. English Jr.: James Allen's Kinsale baseball team uniform

Andy Coates and Ray Wilson have shared two very interesting pictures showing friendship and fellow feeling among the black and white youngsters of their time, a friendship which has been lifelong between Andy and Ray. One was of their 1965-66 second grade class at Cople, taught by Francie Dameron Thompson's mother, the first year when the schools were being desegregated. The other one is from perhaps 1972 when the Kinsale baseball team won the Little League championship.

Harriet Williams gave us an intriguing primitive-looking folding three-legged stool that was at the old Jeffries house when she bought it from Jan Hamilton in February 2017. According to furniture experts Carey Howlett and Iris Heissenbittel, the hinges indicate it is from the 1900s, an example of a Northern European style Brettstuhl or plank chair. Similar pieces on the internet are dubbed birthing stools.
